Universe line

The Universe street furniture line includes benches, planters and a solar station. All furniture is made of steel. Their oval, minimalist shape fits perfectly into modern architecture and urban planning.

Our solar stations

ZANO solar stations are contemporary street furniture equipped with photovoltaic panels. Thanks to them the stations are an independent source of energy and lighting. The stations enable charging of mobile devices and provide the Internet.

Producer

As a leading manufacturer in Poland we always do our best to meet the customer's requirements. ZANO is equally comfortable and experienced designing for different types of street furniture projects. We are passionate about creating beautiful, functional, sustainable models. This is achieved through a process of focused listening that seeks to truly understand and respond to the inherent nuances of each particular client.
